I am indebted to the Canadian Conversation Institute for use of facilities in the deduction of this wonderful volute. I am also great full to Catherine Antomarchi for suggesting this condemnative issue, and to all the carburetors who wittingly provided material. Sadly, I am also indebted to Gaël de Guichen, whose retirement was the excuse for this outrage against propriety. Finally, the editor wishes to acknowledge the makers of WordPerfect for the spellcheckers that make proofreading such an easy task.
